A Letter.

BANGOR, Dec. 23, 1841.

MR. BAYWARD My Dear Sir I observed in your paper a notice of a discourse delivered by the Rev. Dr. Pond, in which you say, "from the data furnished and used by him, we learned that our city is in a lamentable state of spiritual desolation, there being an actual deficiency of twelve or thirteen evangelical ministers, and on account of this deficiency the people are perishing for lack of vision," which discourse, I understand, was delivered in behalf of the education society. I did not hear or know of this discourse until I saw it noticed in your paper, but judging from what I have since learned, it represented more than one half of the entire population of these United States, as actually perishing for lack of spiritual knowledge. Melancholy reflection! Ten or twelve millions of human souls, each of infinite value, without the means of grace, or any one to break to them the bread of life, actually perishing and sinking to everlasting perdition! And the consideration that so many of these precious and immortal souls reside within the immediate vicinity of Bangor, does not seem to render the reflection much less poignant. Now, if these things be so, (which, by the way, I have no disposition to dispute,) I must be allowed, as I have ever been a contributor (to some humble extent, at least,) toward the education and support of orthodox congregational ministers, both at home and abroad to enquire, Firstly Why it is that the Rev. Doctor, together with his brethren in the ministry, who profess not only to be imbued with the spirit that dwell in the bosom of Him who wept over Jerusalem, and which characterized the apostles, but also to have received a divine call and commission to preach the everlasting gospel, can remain so cold and indifferent as they by their conduct almost invariably appear to be in view of such awfully solemn realities?

Secondly Why is it that we see almost every Sabbath day from one ten years' end to another so many of these divinely called and divinely commissioned ministers, who have been so educated by charity, or otherwise, as that they can preach almost as readily as they can converse upon any other subject, sitting under the preaching of others, while their fellow men are perishing by scores and hundreds, if not by thousands, within the space of a very short distance from their own dwellings for the want of some suitable person to break to them the bread of life.

Thirdly If the towns easterly of us, and between the Penobscot and Kennebec Rivers, are in such a state of spiritual destitution, as the Rev. gentleman represented, why do not the ministers of Portland and other towns west of the Kennebec, when journeying east instead of coming to Bangor, as they invariably do for the purpose of spending the Sabbath in preaching, where, (to use the language of our city Divines,) we sit under the full blaze of gospel light, contrive to drop into some of those desolate places on the Sabbath, and spend the day in preaching to the destitute and needy? And, fourthly Why do not the Rev. Doctor and his brethren in the ministry of Bangor, when traveling west, so time their journey, as to spend a Sabbath occasionally in some of those places where the people are perishing for lack of vision instead of passing by on the other side like a certain priest of old, and so passing on to Portland, or some other populous place, where every pulpit is already adequately supplied.

Yours, &amp;c. J. GILMAN.

The Syracuse Journal States that Joe Smith, the leader of the Mormons, was present at the delivery of a lecture by W. J. Dodge, at the rooms of the Young Men's Association in that village on Wednesday last. Joe, by permission, at the conclusion of the lecture, addressed a few words to the members on the advantages of the association, &c., &c. He was on his way from the east to his home of his followers, at Nauvoo, Illinois.

Fifteen thousand dollars have been expended upon a single volume in England, containing the portraits and biographies of every member of the house of Russell. Only one copy was printed.

Mr. Brodhead has copied at the Hague, or residence of the King of the Netherlands, 3000 pages of MSS. relating to our colonial history.

The large and well furnished house of Mr. Henry Adams, in New Marlborough, N. H., was, with its contents, entirely consumed by fire on Saturday night, 18th inst. The members of the family had barely time to escape with their night clothes only. Loss estimated at $1,500.

The Bangor Whig thinks the Calais people had better take the rail-road at Bangor than daily along in the steamboat. Before doing this we should like to know which way the rails of that road are laid. Calais Ad.

At present the rails are laid horizontally, directly through the region of anticipation to Portland. They will be more subsequently laid in about five years.

The N. Y. Journal of Commerce says that General Cair was arrested in Washington on Monday, on the ground that he had come to head quarters without orders.

In the United States it is estimated, that there are 50,000 of the descendants of Abraham. They have 50 synagogues. In 1806 there were but five synagogues, and about four thousand Jews.

The Washington mail did not reach Philadelphia in season to connect with the N. York line, and we are consequently without further intelligence from Washington.

In answer to "X." we reply that "F. L. W." has forwarded a diagram illustrating his answer to the mathematical question proposed by "X." We shall endeavor to give it to-morrow.

A lecture will be delivered before the Lyceum, this evening, by Dr. I. S. Stockpole.

The Patriarch of Family Library Magazine, Edited by Rev. R. W. Daily. George A. Putnam, N. York, vol. 1, 1841.

Mr. Duren has laid upon our table the first volume of this Magazine, published every other month, at one dollar a year in advance. It is a periodical of great beauty, with clear print upon smooth good paper, and is embellished with thirteen beautiful plates, several of which are well colored.

The articles are written in a pure and elevated style, many of them with a religious cast, calculated to move parents to efficient action in behalf of the mental and moral elevation of their offspring as accountable creatures in time, and candidates. Without meaning to say one word relative to the doctrinal views of the work, we find much in it independent of these, well designed to amend the life and improve the heart.

The following article from the November number is much to our taste:

The Apprentices' Library.

BY ELIHU BURRITT, THE LEARNED BLACKSMITH.

Why, Frank Wilson! How where on earth did you get all these books? Here! what the Knickerbocker too! and the North American and American Eclectic! Now Frank, where did you get the money to buy all these? Why, I have ten dollars more a year than you; yet I have to send down to father for money, almost every month. You take the Eclectic, indeed? Why, there are none but Squire Waters and Doctor Marvan in the whole town who think themselves able to have such a costly work, which is only meant for a few rich people to read. Pretty well, eh? for a poor apprentice to a soap-boiler! Where did you get that book, case, and all those books you have stuck up there? Let's see Plutarch's Lives! Who's he? what's that about? Rollin's Ancient History! why didn't he write it all in one book, as well as to have a dozen about it? Gibbon's Rome! there's no such place in the United States. Why, my dear fellow, what a long list of outlandish names you've got here! Let me see! Milton, Shakespeare, Young, Pope, Dryden, Cowper, Bacon Locke, Goldsmith, and all the other Smiths in creation, as well as those in America! Now, come; I will light my Havana, and give you a chance to explain how you, an apprentice, with only forty dollars a year, contrive to scrape together a library half as large as Parson Day-ton's.

Sitting down in the proffered chair, and lighting his Havana, Edward Saunders placed his feet upon his friend's clean desk, and seemed really to be waiting for a detailed account of the modus operandi by which an apprentice could acquire honestly such a collection of valuable books. Nor did Francis hesitate to gratify his curiosity. Both of the young men were in the middle of their apprenticeship; and the most cardinal intimacy had subsisted between them from their youth. Edward was deficient in nothing so much as in that economy so necessary for an apprentice in expending his small annuity; and Francis laid upon a very successful method of administering to his young friend a salutary lesson upon this subject, which he explained how even an apprentice could acquire a taste and the means for the cultivation of his intellect.

Edward said he, taking up his pencil, "I will explain to you in figures, what seem to have excited your wonder, if you will permit me, by the way, to ask you a few questions in order to solve the problem. I see you are very fond of smoking; how many cigars do you buy a week?"

"O none, of any account," replied Edward, anticipating some unpleasant strictures upon his favorite practice, "after working all day; it is really a comfort to smoke one genuine Havana; it does not amount to anything; I only smoke six in the course of the whole week."

"Six Havanas a week," repeated Francis, putting it down upon paper, with as much formality as if he were registering the data of a problem, "six a week at two cents a piece, amount to the very trifling sum of six dollars and twenty-five cents per annum. I suppose you spend a trifle at the fruit shops," continued Francis. "Nothing worth mentioning," replied Edward, rather startled at the aggregate of such little items; "all I buy apples, nuts, raisins, figs, oranges, &c., do not amount to ninepence a week; that is not half as much as Tom Williams, the goldsmith's apprentice, spends for amusements in half that time; and, besides, Francis, you know I never taste a drop of any kind of liquor not even wine. You certainly can't think I lack economy, Frank?"

"Ninapence a week for nuts, raisins, oranges and figs," repeated Francis, in a low serious tone, pronouncing the items, one by one, as he wrote them down, with all the precision and gravity of a clerk in a country store; "Ninapence a week amount to six dollars and fifty cents per annum, which, added to six dollars and twenty-five cents spent for cigars, make the trifling sum of twelve dollars and seventy-four cents for one year. Now, Edward, see what I have obtained for just this sum. Here, said he, taking down several neatly bound volumes of the North American Review, and a handful of those of the Knickerbocker, "I have bought all these for a less sum than you have paid for cigars, nuts, &c., during the last year. And as for these other books which you see here in my book-case, I will tell you how I have obtained them, and how any other apprentice can do the same, with only thirty-six dollars a year too. You know our masters are very industrious and steady men; and are attentive to their business, and like to see their workmen so. They prefer also to see them with a book in their hands, when they have done their work, rather than to be lounging about at the taverns or in vicious company. So when my master saw that I liked to read every chance I could get, and spend all the money I could spare for books, he offered to give me ninapence an hour for all the time I would work from twelve o'clock to one, p. m. And that is the way, Edward, that I have bought all these books, which you thought I had borrowed, begged or stolen. I work every noontime a half an hour, and earn enough every fortnight to buy one of these books. Milton's Paradise Lost, for instance. To be sure, they are not bound in calf, nor are they gilded; but they contain the same matter as if they were, and that is enough for me.

When Edward Saunders had listened to this very interesting and simple explanation of his uncle's apprentice, and had passed his eye over all the fine books in his little library, he arose suddenly at the very last words of Francis, and opening the little chamber window, took out his last half dozen cigars, which were to constitute his week's stock of comfort, and without saying a word tossed them in the garden. A new fire of animation lit up his eye, as he darted out of the room, turning only at the door to say "I'll try it, Frank."

The Capture of the Santa Fe Expedition is fully confirmed by official accounts received at New Orleans, from the Mexican Capital. They include the whole expedition, and state that 12 wagons, 5 of which were filled with merchandise worth $25,000, and the other 7 containing provisions and ammunition, were taken, with 200 stand of fire arms, a piece of cannon, 76 horses and 70 oxen. This account states that the Texans were captured at the Lagoon of Colorado, in the middle of the plain of Estacado, without a shot having been fired; they having surrendered at discretion, on the first summons from Col. Archuleta, having under him 230 men, the advanced guard of Gen. Arango's division.

Lieut. Quintana had arrived at Chihuahua with a Texan Colonel, 3 Captains, a Doctor and 2 boys. Captain Salazar also started with 182 other prisoners. It is stated in the papers, that an army of 3000 men had already marched from the capital for Texas; and that the whole force of the nation is to be set in motion for the same destination, to be led on by Santa Ana in person. The Texan prisoners have probably ere this been put to the rack, or placed in the mines.

Capture of a Slave.

The brig Gabriel, a slave, was captured when fifteen days from Havana, by H. M. brig Acorn. She had a crew of 65 Spaniards, and exchanged several shots with the Acorn. Her cargo consisted of dry goods, lumber and rice. In one of the bags of rice were found papers which stated that there were twenty-eight slave vessels fitting out at Havana.

The brig's crew were put on board the Acorn, which sailed for the coast of Africa, to land them on a desolate and uninhabited part of the coast. Seven other vessels, previously captured, were breaking up at St. Helena and sixteen hundred slaves were on that island.

The Mechanics of Pittsburgh, Pa held a meeting on the 14th inst. John Jack in the Chair, and passed Resolutions warmly favorable to a "Disseminating or Protective Trade." They appointed a Committee of five to draft a Constitution for an "Association auxiliary to the Home League," another Committee of three to draft an Address to the People of the County, and adjourned to meet again on the 21st.

Both boilers of the Ferry boat, at St. Charles, on the Missouri, exploded as she was leaving the shore on the 7th inst. A Mr. Bell, standing near the boilers, was so severely scalded that he died in four hours after the accident. Four other persons were considerably injured.

Quite an Incident.

On Friday last, while the storm was raging, the wind blowing, snow, rain and hail falling, two men from the east side of the river attempted to cross in a boat to this village. This attempt was made about noon. They succeeded in reaching the middle of the river. They now found their little craft as completely hemmed in as a vessel of discovery ever was by forty islands of ice. The snow and water were uniting around the boat, fast making an iceberg of which they were likely to be the heart and soul. Not quite content with their condition, and having nothing better in prospect, they pulled lustily at the oars and the paddle, but all to no purpose. The skiff would not budge her length one way or the other. Meantime the wind was sweeping a hurricane down the river, night was gathering over the vale of the Kennebec and our two friends were still in the middle of the river. It was no use to call the hoarse sound of the angry tempest was all the response they could expect. They hoisted a signal of distress. This was seen by a number of our active citizens and soon the shore was lined with men ready and willing; but how to do the thing was the question. This was debated in true town meeting style. Meantime two or three active spirits went away to the store for two coils of inch rope, and fastening one end to a light boat and leaving one end in the possession of their friends on shore, taking with them boards to lay along upon each side of the boat, two of them launched forth. They first threw their boards then drew forward the boat, and in this way reached the sufferers, who abandoning their own ice-begut wherry, took with great joy to the life boat which had been forwarded them.

When all were fairly on board, the signal was given to the hundreds on shore to "pull," and never did a monster of the Pacific draw his enemies after him with greater velocity than our heroic crew did. All was done, and our friends Douglas and Luce were just comfortably seated by a warm fire, as the darkness of night closed the day, and finished this exciting scene. Hallowell Standard.

How to stop a run on a Bank.

An excellent plan, and like many other excellent things, an Irish invention, is that reported by Charles O'Malley to have been tried by one of the Dublin banks to avoid the penalties of suspension. Red hat coin was shovelled out to the panic stricken bill holders, and the run being thus checked, the Bank had in the mean time opportunity to strengthen itself from abroad.

This most costly undertaking ever attempted by a single individual, of a literary character, is the magnificent work on the aborigines of Mexico, by the late Lord Kingsborough. This stupendous work was produced at the enormous cost of $30,000 or $150,000. It is comprised in seven immense folio volumes, embellished by a host of 1000 superb illustrations, colored so exquisitely as to represent the originals, with the most faithful exactness. Not only did the enthusiastic nobleman undertake to defray the entire expense attending the publication, in every item, but he actually determined on having but a very limited number of copies printed, we believe only fifty, after which the lithographic drawings from which the plates were taken, were erased. These copies were appropriated for gratuitous presentation to the several Royal and Public Libraries of Europe, and it is believed they all safely reached their destination. It is greatly to be regretted, however, that no copy has ever yet reached any public institution of this country. It is painful to add that this noble patron of literature and the arts, actually died in debt, about four years since, a sad instance of self-immolation, to his munificence, in a prison in Dublin. We have heard it credibly asserted that a copy of Lord Kingsborough's superb work is now in the hands of Mr. Hooper, the London bookseller, which is valued at EIGHTY GUINEAS.

THE AFFLUENT know not the wants of the poor. He whose table is bountifully spread from day to day, cannot believe that his poor neighbor is starving, almost under his own eye. The rich when told there is suffering, credit not the tale, they see it not, and consequently, reason that if it does exist, the cases related are greatly exaggerated. There are many undoubtedly who would be ready to afford necessary relief, could they see, and not hear of poverty, in its direst forms. Now is the season for the exercise of charity, and we trust that all who possess an abundance, will of that abundance give to the needy. [Boston Telegraph.]

The Steam Fire Engine.

This engine was taken to the Battery yesterday forenoon and put in operation. A trial was made with it to throw water to the top of the liberty pole in the enclosure, which is believed to be about 175 feet in height. It at once forced a stream from a pipe, whose orifice was an inch and a half in diameter, to the top of the pole, and several jets went many feet above. Afterwards a pipe with an orifice seven eighths of an inch in diameter was added, and the two streams were forced up to about 30 feet below the top of the pole. [Jour. of Com.]

Two highlights met, one of whom was exceedingly rich, and the other in moderate circumstances. The latter began to congratulate the first on his great possessions, and on the happiness which he must enjoy; and ended by contrasting it with his own condition. "My friend," said the rich man, "let me ask you one question. Would you be willing to take my property and take the whole care of it for your board and clothing?" "No, indeed," "Well, that is all I get."

A potato diet is found greatly to improve the quality of the blood. Hence roasted or baked potatoes are successfully employed as a specific against the sea scurry, when other remedies have failed. This discovery was made in France. It is singular that boiled potatoes do not seem to have the same good effects.

Dr. Menzies has shown that if a dog is fed on white bread and water, and confined wholly to that, he will die within fifty days; but if the bran is left in the bread no bad effects are experienced by the animal.

Short Cloaks; or, Squabs.

Wife! is that you?
Exclaimed a modest gentleman,
Of forty-two.
I thought some paddy woman O, shocking!
Was coming into my house without knocking!

And what is that,
You'd have me think a garment?
How very squat
You look! You first were tall and comely,
But now O, how confounded homely!

Well, I declare!

Ha, ha! ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, ha!

That's pretty fair,

That you, my wife, aged forty-eight,

Should curtail yourself at such a rate!

To him the wife

"Husband! 'tis a cloak you laugh at!"

Upon my life,

I cannot see what there is about it,

That makes you so unmercifully flout it!"

"Let's see, my dear,

Perhaps it is the fashion

To wear such gear

But 'spos it were the fashion thus to crop

The other garments as short as this on top.

"If many think you,

Would such a fashion follow?

Precious few

I reckon the fashion would a begging go,

As, I trust, with this squab-fashion, too."

Important News from Providence.
JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT TRIUMPHANT.
A CARD. I give to the public the following facts, that all interested may be benefited by the operation.
I am sixty four years of age, have been four years very seriously afflicted with ASTHMA have tried several physicians, and taken many 'certain' cures, of great expense and without any essential advantage. For two years I was not able to pass the whole of a night in my bed. On consulting Doctor Wadsworth, of this city, about my case, he advised me to take Dr. Jayne's Expectorant. This medicine operated as he told me it would. I have taken five bottles of it, and consider myself in a manner cured by it. I can now lay comfortably all night, am free from the tightness of the lungs and weakness of the stomach which so dreadfully distressed and reduced me. In short, life had become fairly burdensome to me now I enjoy it, though I am not entirely free from other infirmities attendant upon old age.

NOTICE TO FAMILIES, SHIP OWNERS AND MASTERS OF VESSELS
ALL LOVERS OF GOOD BREAD are recommended to make use of WM. BROWN'S PORTABLE CAKE YEAST as it makes the bread much better than the common mode. The Yeast is free from all impure ingredients, makes the bread perfectly white and light, is well adapted for ships use, and will keep in all climates. It is now in extensive use in Boston and orders are beginning to be received from all quarters. No better evidence is wanting of its superiority over all other articles used for rising bread than the following Certificate.
Boston, May 20th, 1841
The undersigned having made use of William Brown's Portable Cake Yeast for rising bread, in our opinion this new preparation of Yeast is far better than any other article we have ever made use of, and will make the bread much whiter and very light, and we believe to be free from all its pure ingredients.
Signed by the Pastry Cooks at the Tremont House, Pavilion, American House, and Marlboro' Hotel.
It is now in use at most of the Hotels in the city and on board all the Steamships belonging to Mr. Cunard's line of Packets. A note is just received from John Anderson, Pastry Cook on board the Steamship Britannia, who writes that he has made use of Wm. Brown's Yeast for making bread during two voyages across the Atlantic and can recommend it as far superior to any thing else for rising bread. No vessel should go to sea without it.
The above article is now for sale by the Proprietor, 481 Washington street. Also dealers can be supplied at the manufacturer's price, by Dana Evans & Co., 514 Pierce & Co., Wm. B. Bradford & Co. HUMAN HAIR.
CLEANLINESS OF THE HEAD AND HAIR.
STRANGE it is that persons who attend strictly to personal cleanliness, bath, &c. should neglect the Head. The hair the most essential the most exposed, and the most beautiful when properly cared for, of all the gifts of the Creator. Perfectly free may it be kept of dandruff or scurf with a certainty that the hair cannot fall out, by the use of the Balm of Columbia. Ladies, will you make your toilet without this article? I answer fearlessly, No, if you have once tried and experienced its purifying effects its sweet perfume.
A hundred articles have been put forth on the credit of this the only first the only really valuable article. A mass of testimony from all classes to these facts.
LOOK OUT! Counterfeits are abroad, look always for the name of COMSTOCK & Co. on the splendid wrappers, and never buy it without that name.
[From the Boston Chronicle Jan 10]
[We see by an advertisement in another column that Messrs Comstock & Co. the Agents for Oldridge's Palm of Columbia, have deputed to sell that article in Boston and elsewhere. We know a lady of this city whose hair was so nearly gone as to expose entirely her phrenological developments, which, considering that they betokened a most amiable disposition, was not in itself very unfortunate. Nevertheless she mourned the loss of locks that she had worn, and after a year's fruitless resort to mis-called restoratives purchased, some months ago, a bottle or two of Oldridge's Palm, and she has now ringlets in rich profusion, glossy, and of raven-blackness. We are not putting name of the counterfeiter has been sent to us, and indeed, we do not want any, for though we were obliged to wear a wig a year ago, we have now, through its virtue, hair enough, and of a passable quality, of our own.]
Daring Fraud.
The Balm of Columbia has been imitated by a notorious counterfeiter. Let it never be purchased or used unless it have the signature of COMSTOCK & Co. on a splendid wrapper. This is the only external test that will secure the public from deception.

TO THE LADIES.
INTELLECTUAL DEVELOPMENTS AND PERSONAL BEAUTY CONSIDERED IN CONNECTION WITH DOCT. FELIX GOURAUD'S POUDES SUBTILES.
The sculptor whose study is to imitate the exquisite workmanship of nature, portrays in his model of the human form a broad and elevated forehead. This development is not only consonant with but sometimes necessary to the possession of a high order of mental faculty. If a fine forehead is a mark of intellect it is no less an essential element of personal beauty, and it is of importance to those and there are many such possessed of this prominent feature though obscured by the encroachments of a too luxuriant growth of hair to remove that portion of an excrescence which tends in their case only to deform. This can be done safely, speedily, effectually, and, if used in accordance with directions, without the least inconvenience, by Dr. Felix Gouraud's Depilatory Powders. The use of the lip when annoying, or the short hair on the back of a lady's neck, when too apparent, the hair of a mole, or the beard, when it grows upon the cheek may all be removed, and eventually the roots destroyed, by the use of this preparation.
Manufactured by Dr. Felix Gouraud 67, Walker street, one door from Broadway, New York $1.00 per bottle.
GOURAUD'S EAU DE BEAUTE, OR TRUE WATER OF BEAUTE.
For removing Freckles, Tan Pimples, Blisters, Sores, Burns, and all Cutaneous Eruptions, realizing delicate white hands, neck and arms, and eliciting a healthy juvenile appearance. $1.00 per bottle.
GOURAUD'S VEGETABLE ROUGE.
Composed of materials from flowers and simples, imparts a delicate carnation tinge to the cheek, up movable by perspiration or rubbing with a handkerchief or a flannel cloth. $1.00 per bottle.

LORRAINE'S PILLS,
OR VEGETABLE UNIVERSAL MEDICINE
CURATIVE
OF THE
French College of Health, in Paris.
THE following letter was received yesterday by mail from Salem. It gives another evidence of the great success of Lorraine's Vegetable Universal Pills.
"I have been for many years a sufferer from the ravages of Scrophula and Cancerous Humors, which at last seized on the vitals, and exhibited all the threatening symptoms of consumption. The general inability of all remedies awakened my enquiries as to the thousand different methods of cure to most of which I had recourse without receiving benefit. I accidentally noticed a remarkable cure by Lorraine's Pills, and was induced to give them a trial. I sent to Boston and got a box. By the use of them I found immediate relief and was soon restored to a perfect state of health."
J. E. NEWHALL
Salem, 21st May, 1841

The following letter from J. B. Light, Esq. is worthy of notice.
"I took one of Lorraine's Vegetable Pills last evening for a pun in my head, that had effected me for several days, occasioned by taking cold. I soon felt very calm and quiet and a state of general repose came on which had great charms, and I enjoyed one of the most comfortable and refreshing nights rest that I ever did in my life. I rose in the morning in my usual state of health, and believe it is my duty to recommend this medicine."
Yours truly,
J. B. LIGHT
Nov. 20th, 1841

[From Boston Daily Mail]
Somebody wisely says, that a cap loaded with jewels and flowers will not cure the headache, nor gold chains prevent the consumption. Lorraine's Vegetable Pills have done both.
"I have been effectually cured of a severe headache by the use of Lorraine's Pills."
SARAH NOYES
"My daughter had all the threatening symptoms of a Consumption, such as cough, pain in the side, &c., together with general debility, but has had her health restored by Lorraine's Pills."
Rev. J. KNIGHT
New York City, Nov. 1, 1841

Family Medicine.
"I have used Lorraine's Pills in my family as a family medicine, and I would most earnestly recommend them to all persons as the best medicine that can be procured. I would not give to children that operate mildly, and never fail to give immediate relief. Until I used these Pills I was obliged to pay from $200 to $1000 per year for medicines and physicians, since then I have had no other doctor than Dr. Lorraine's Pills."
JAMES NEAL
Hartford, Conn July 8
Lame Back.
Sarah Snow was cured of a lame back in one day, when she had been unable to dress herself alone for two weeks.
Susan Jones of Boston, cured in 36 hours of lame back and side of three weeks standing.

Sick Headache.
Mrs. Bard of Providence says, that Lorraine's Pills have proved a real blessing to her. "It has surpassed any thing that has been brought to the public notice. I have been cured of a sick headache that had afflicted me for years, by the use of Lorraine's Pills."

THE CONDITION
The condition upon which nature gives health to man, is a state of perfect purity, free from all morbid and unhealthy accumulations. Lorraine's Pills admirably effect this, because they cleanse the bowels and purify the blood. The human body is all-eyes healthy when the bowels are regular, the blood circulates freely, and disease invariably commences when obstructions take place in the bowels.
The extraordinary virtues of Lorraine's Pills depends upon extracts of over 50 different vegetables, all so admirably combined, as to purify, nourish and invigorate the human system.

DR. SEARS' Universal Sanguinarian, OR BLOOD-ROOT PILLS.
THESE truly Vegetable Pills are eminent for their use in all cases where the blood is impure. They operate more effectually upon the LIVER and BILIARY DUCTS than any ever before introduced in the public. They consequently set the bile which is the natural Physic of the system at liberty, thus removing costiveness, curing Dyspepsia, Liver complaint, Indigestion, Dropsy, and all other diseases which depend on an impure state of the BLOOD. In point of Economy as well as efficacy these Pills are without a rival as the price for a Box of thirty Pills is only twenty five cents. They are warranted to be composed of the very best materials. MYSTERIOUS.
A GENTLEMAN belonging to one of the most ancient and wealthy families of this city, who must be well known to numerous friends, having since the year 1818 up to recently, been nearly double, and for several years confined to his bed, has been restored to good health, has regained his natural erect position and has quitted his carriage, and now walks with ease. We believe this is the gentleman's own description as near as possible, and there is no exaggeration in it. We will give inquirers his address, and doubt not his humane feelings will excuse the liberty; so that any one doubting, may know these facts, though he requests his name may not appear in print. Among other similar instances, Mr. James G. Reynolds, 111 Christie street, has been restored, and will give personal assurances of the facts of his case. Both were rheumatism, and contracted cords and sinews. How has this been done?
Answer. By Heices' Nerve and Bone Lament, externally.

THE INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS will give immediate relief. From three to five said Pills taken every night on going to bed, in a short time, not only remove all the above unpleasant symptoms, but the body will be restored to even sounder health than before. The same can be said of ASHMA, OR DIFFICULTY IN BREATHING.
The Indian Vegetable Pills will loosen and clear off the stomach and bowels, and remove all phlegmy humors, which stop up the air cells of the lungs, and are the cause not only of the above distressing complaint, but when neglected, often terminates in a still more distressing malady, called CONSUMPTION.
It should also be remembered that the Indian Vegetable Pills are certain cures for the following PAIN IN THE SIDE, Oppression, nausea, and sickness, loss of appetite, costiveness, a yellow tinge to the skin and eyes, and every other symptom of a torpid or diseased state of the liver, because the Pills purify from the body those impurities which it deposited upon the important organs, are the cause of every variety of LIVER COMPLAINT.
